Hydrossoft Water Softener Salt

What causes hard water? Rain water is naturally soft but once it falls on the ground it picks up natural minerals, such as calcium & magnesium which harden it. Depending on local geology, the hardness of the water supply will vary - generally harder in the south and softer in the north.

Hydrossoft - the ultimate water softener salt recommended for all types of water softeners.

Hydrossoft water softening salts dissolve evenly so there are no problems with undissolved salt building up in the base of the water softener
